

The Retail Petroleumscape

Lodi, 1933 - Giovanni Muzio

Colico, 1933 - Mario Cereghini

Lecco, 1935 - Mario Cereghini

Sesto, 1949 - Aldo Favini

Milano, 1951 - Mario Bacciocchi

Trieste, 1953 - BBPR

The Retail Petroleumscape

The term "retail" refers to activities related to the sale of products or services by a company directly to the final consumer, who purchases them for personal consumption.

Within the petroleumscape, retail consists of the network of fuel outlets.

According to data provided by UNEM (Unione Energie per la Mobilità), the total network of fuel outlets in Italy at the end of 2020 is estimated at 21,000. Of these, 4122 belong to Eni Div. R. & M., 2751 to the K.P.I. group. (Q8), 2145 to Esso, 1337 to Tamoil and 35 to other minor operators. Other major operators (Api Group, Retitalia, Repsol) own 5120, and finally there are an estimated 6190 white pumps throughout Italy.

When these are divided by region, Lombardy is the region with the most, with an estimated 2259 outlets in operation at the end of 2017.

LA "BACCIOCCA"

Metanopoli, 1957 - 1° palazzo per uffici, Marcello Nizzoli e Mario Olivieri

Roma, 1961 - Eni headquarter, Studio di Architettura Bacigalupo e Ratti

Metanopoli, 1962 - 2° palazzo per uffici, Studio di Architettura Bacigalupo e Ratti

Metanopoli, 1973 - 3° palazzo per uffici, M. Albini, F. Helg, A. Piva, F. Albini

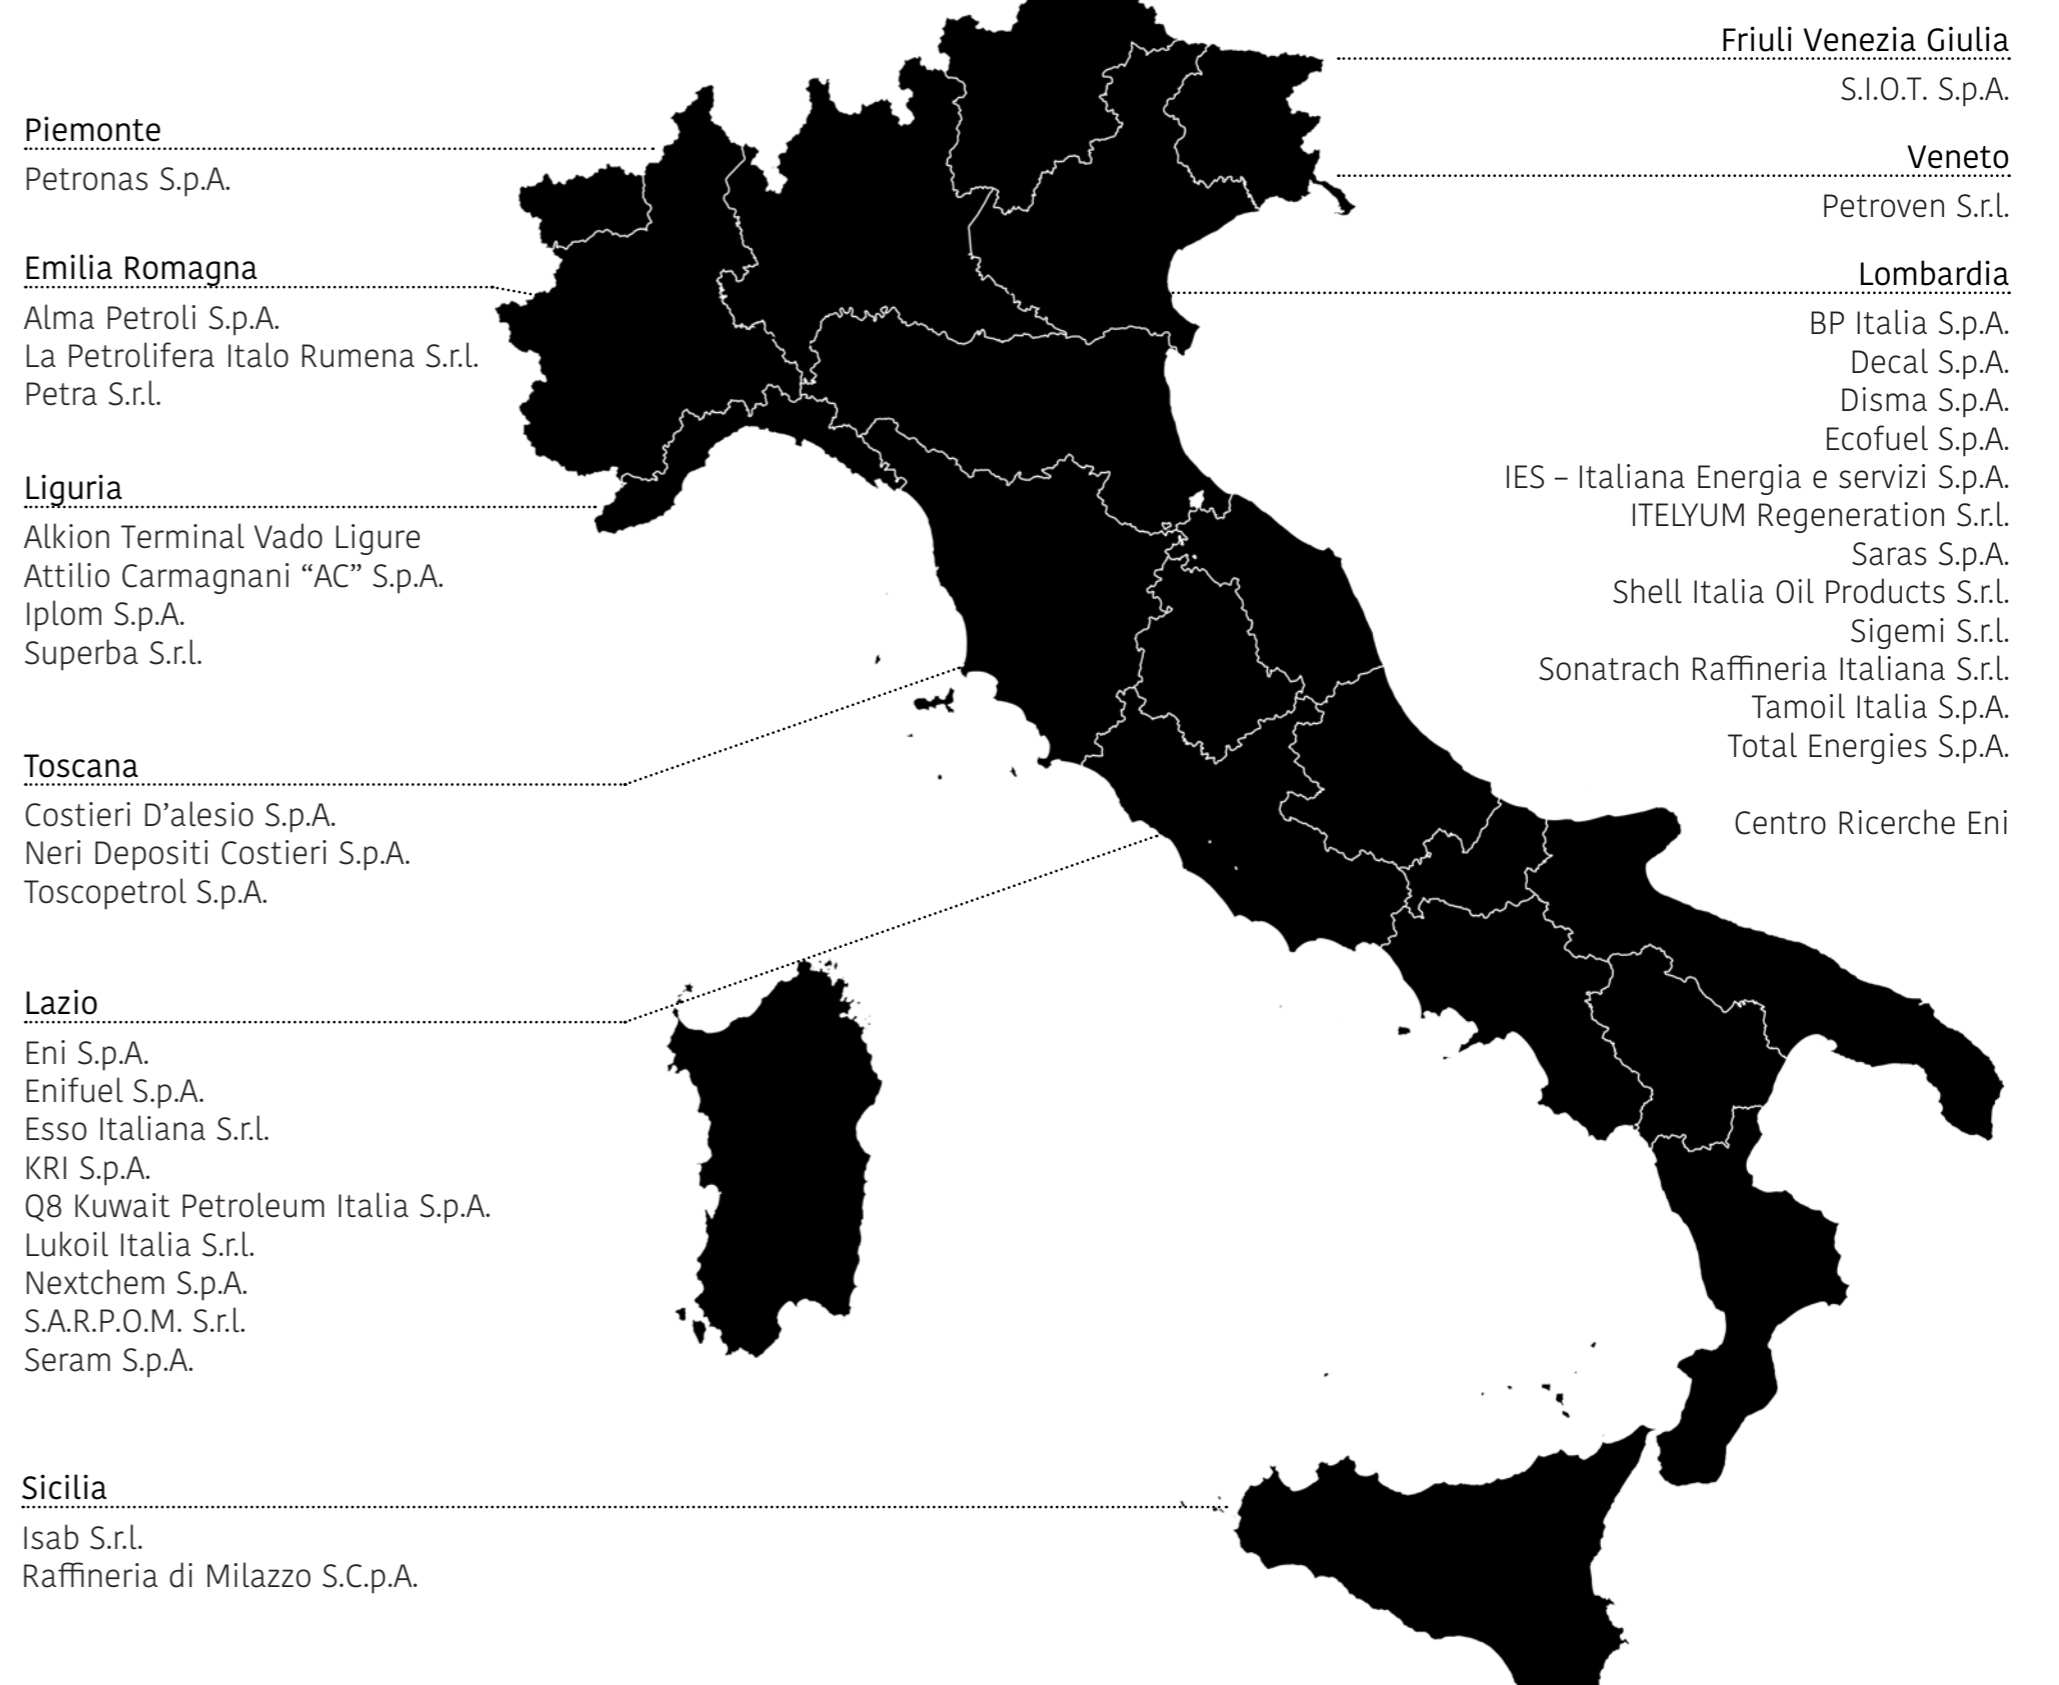

Metanopoli, 1984 - 4° palazzo per uffici, Studio di Architettura Bacigalupo, Ratti, Alberti, Matti

Metanopoli, 1991 - 5° palazzo per uffici, R. Gabetti, A. Isola, G. Drocco

The Administrative Petroleumscape

The Administrative Petroleumscape

The administrative petroleumscape consists of all the headquarters, offices and research centres of the oil companies.

In order to get an overall picture on a national scale of how the major players in the oil business are distributed, I looked at the UNEM (Unione Energie per la Mobilità) Associated Companies and located their administrative offices.

It turned out that the two Italian cities where they have the largest presence are Rome and Milan, and that the production areas do not necessarily have administrative representation.