ADVANTAGES & DISADVANTAGES

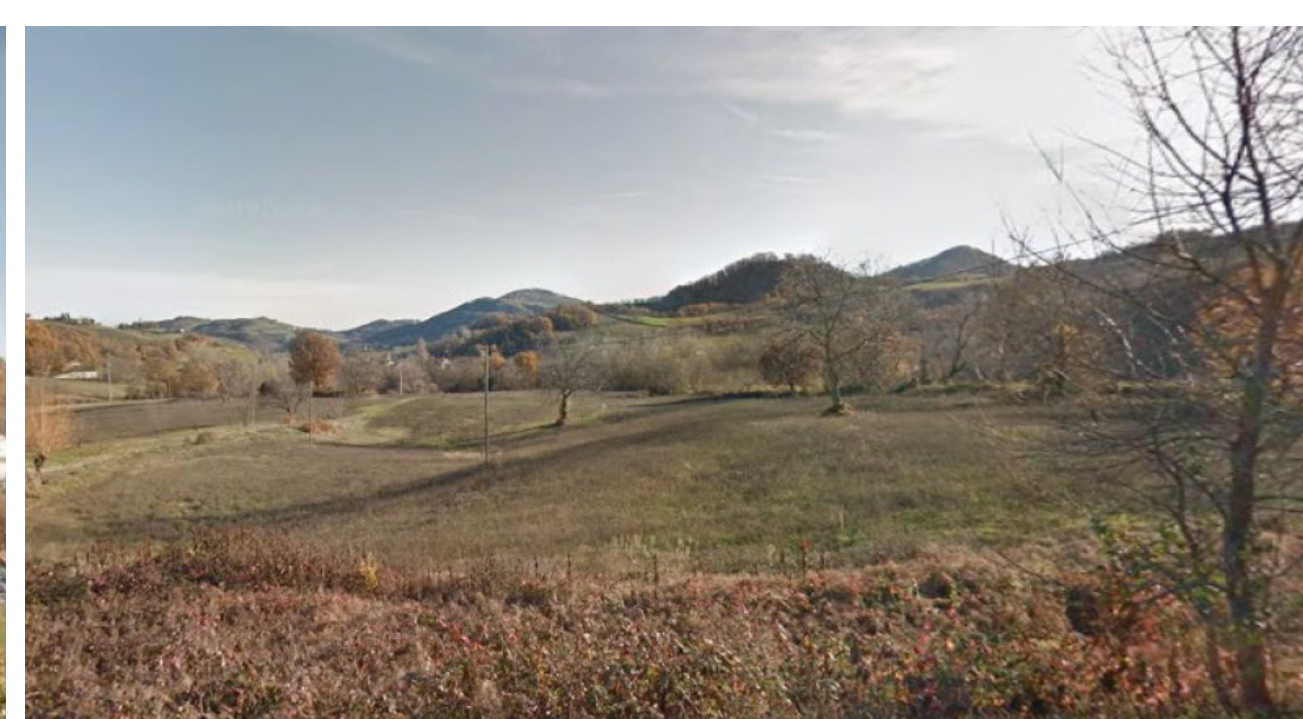

1. The existing farm house is in highest position in the site, and has good view of golf course and the lake in lower middle, in the next step of further design, we want to consider the site as a whole with it using overhead landscape corridor.

2. The existing building in the middle of the site is in low position, has poor viewing effect.

3. To the north of farm, the blank space has rising height, and the viewing effect is getting better, the scenery of golf course, mountains and lakes can be seen.

4. However, now the site is divided into two parts in the middle, surrounding small buildings can be combined with it using overhead landscape corridor.

5. On the other side of the highway, there is broad view of mountains, which can be landscape resource used by the golf club.

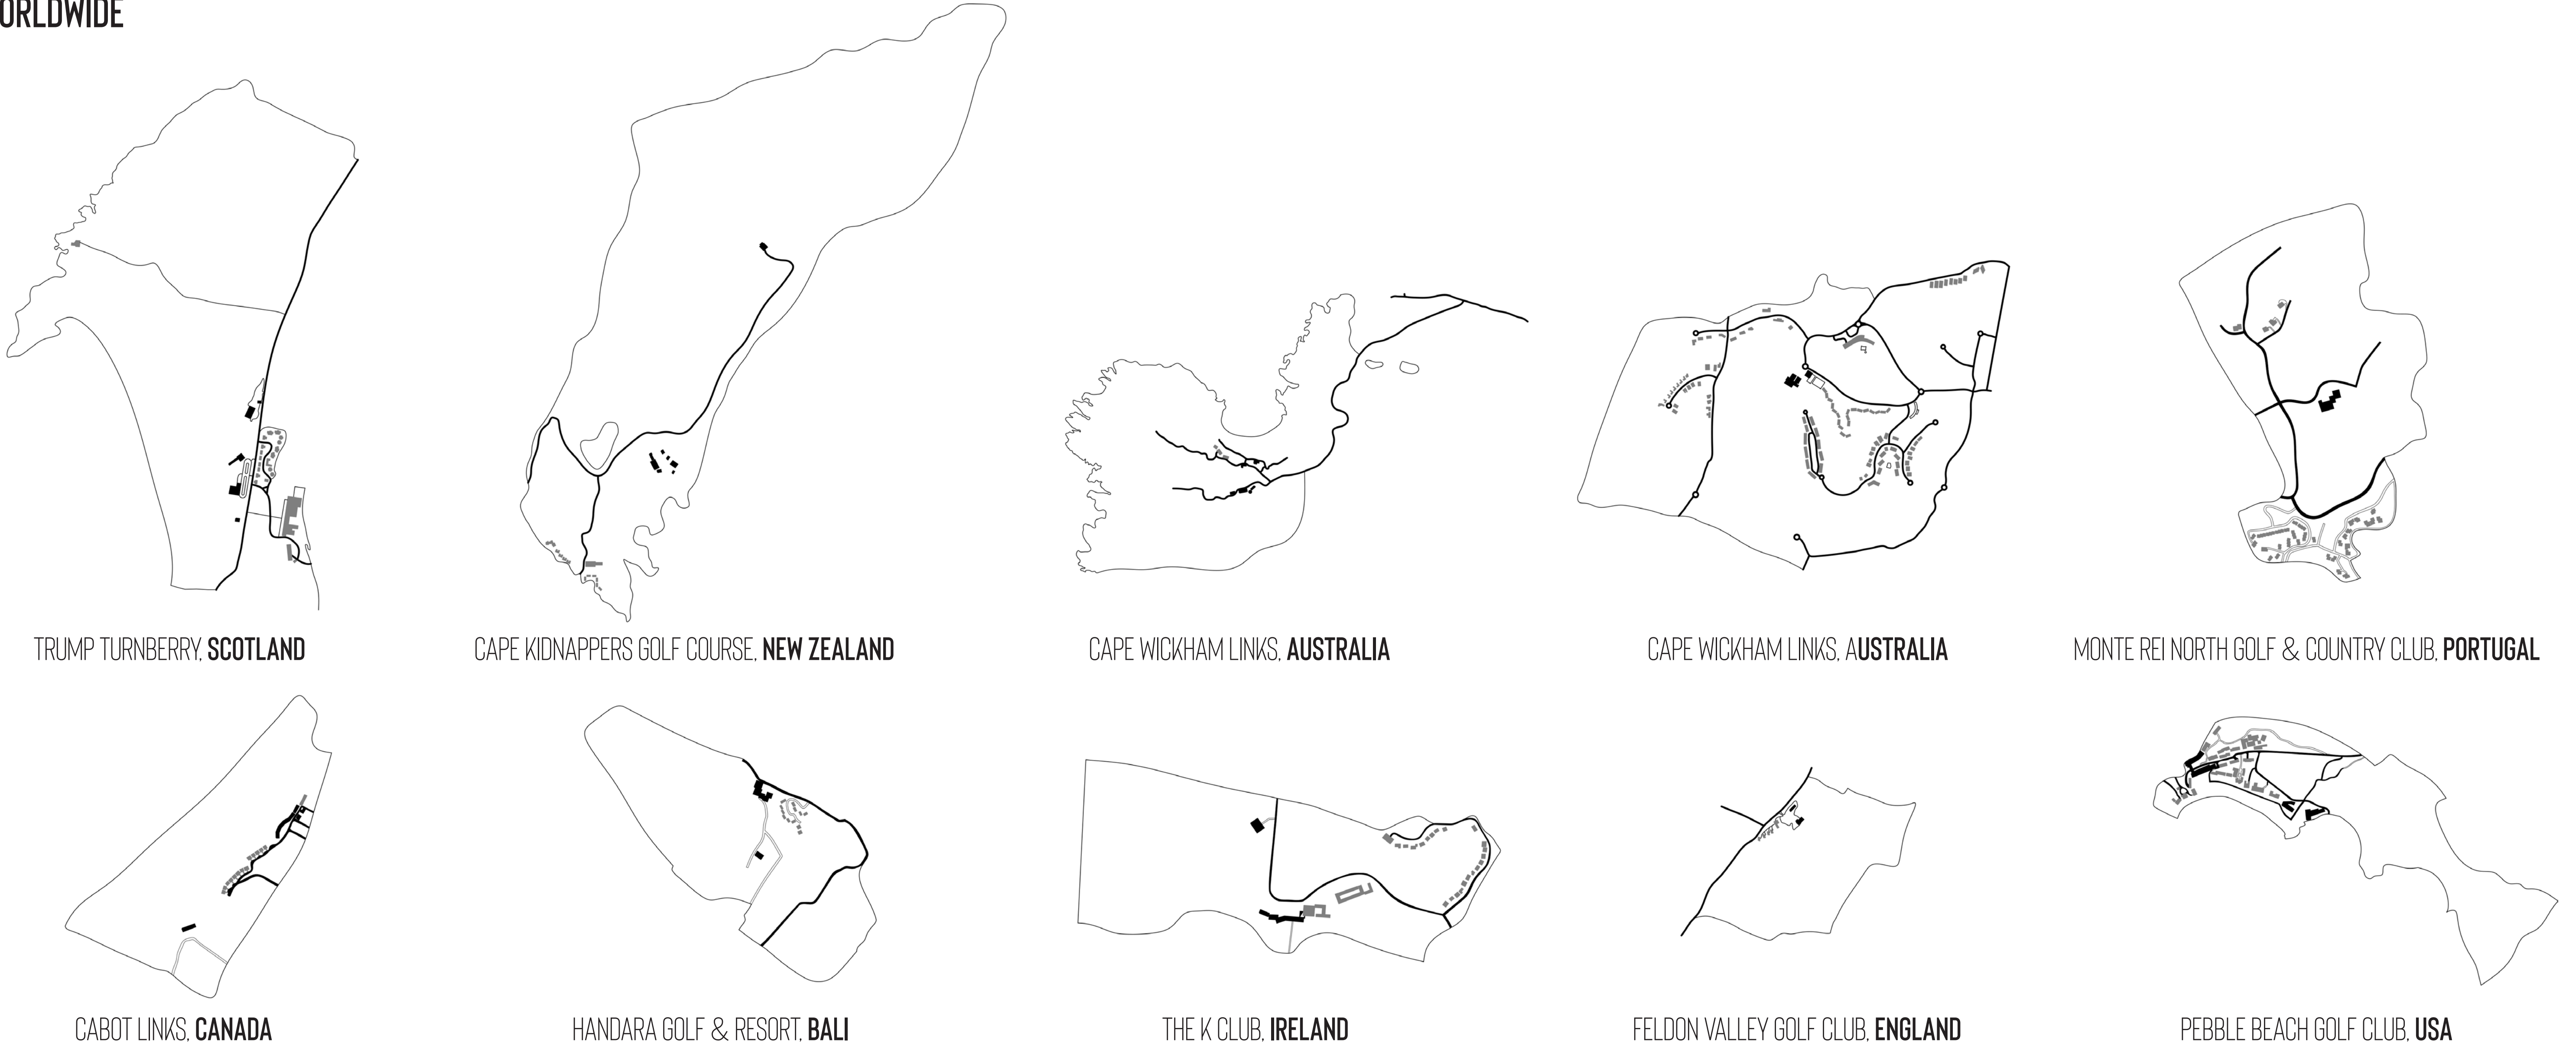

6. However, there are also old buildings that are disadvantages distractions of the site on the other side of the highway.

HIDDEN IN THE LANDSCAPE

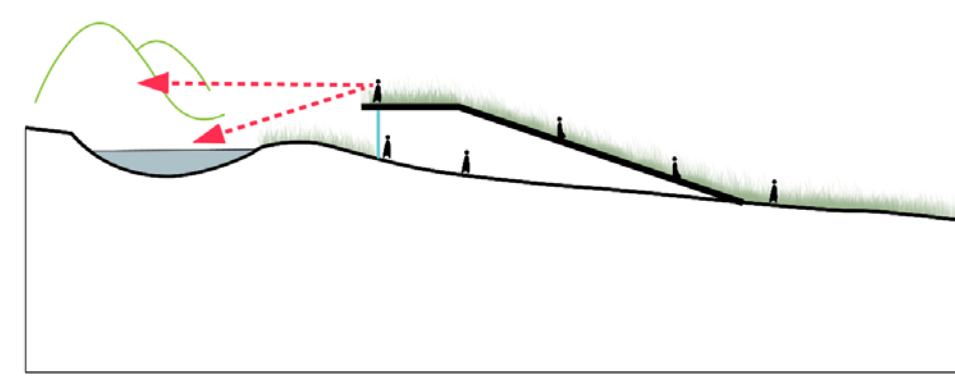

1. The original site is a gentle slope with a calm lake and mountains in the distance. The slope is covered with green grass and the environment is beautiful.

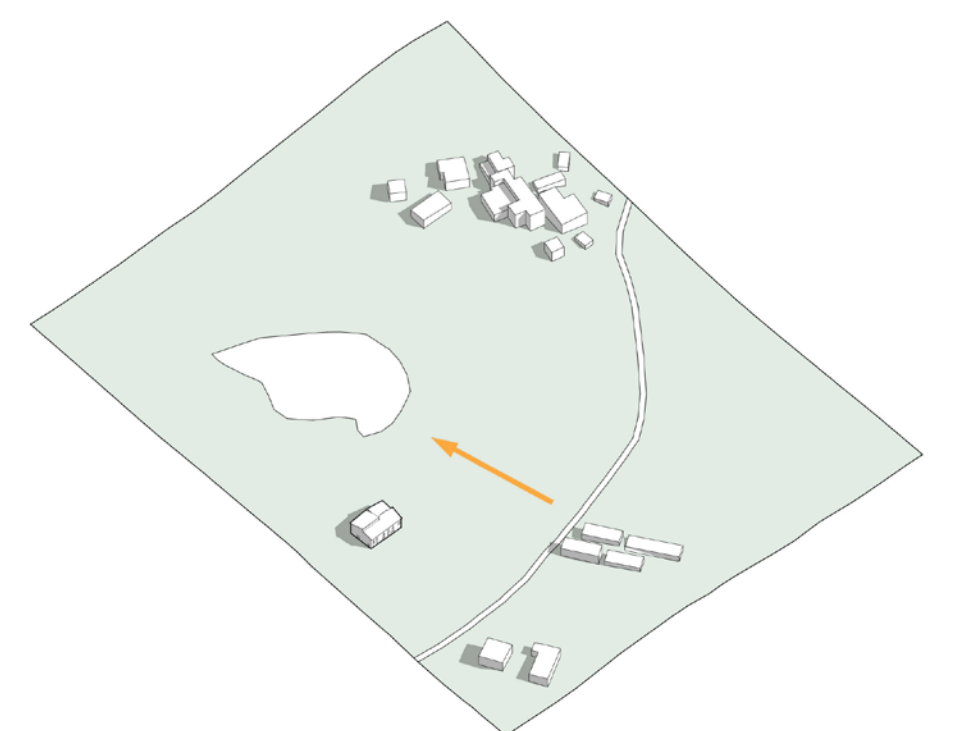

2. During the design process, we want to maintain the original green landscape effect of the site, so we lifted the greenery of the slope surface to become the roof of the new building.

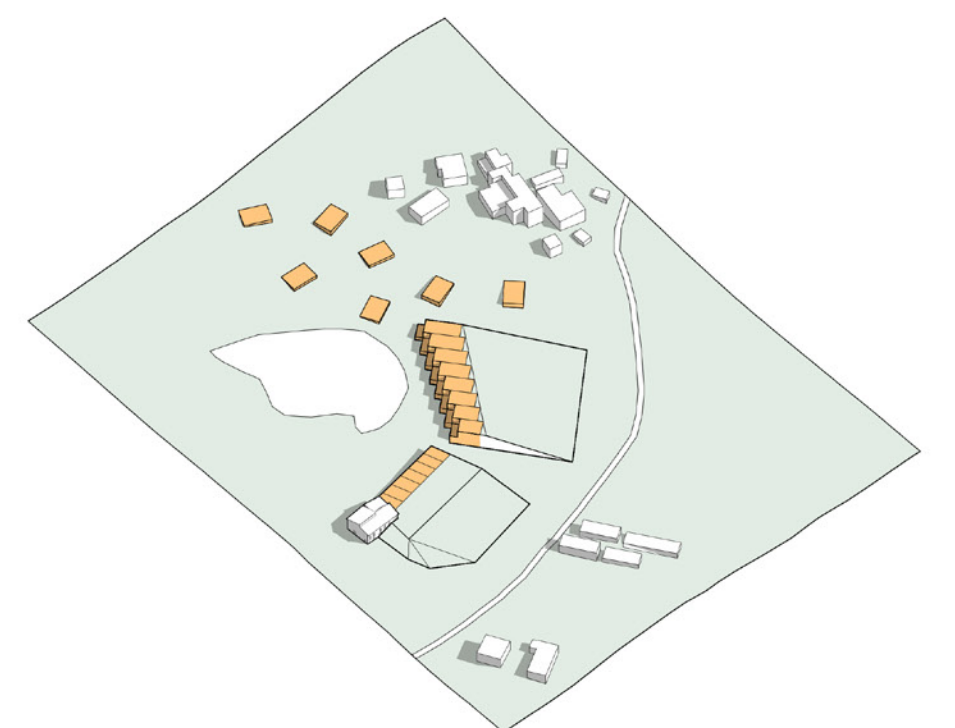

3. Going up to the highest point of the roof, guests can enjoy the peaceful lake close up and the hills and mountains in the distance.

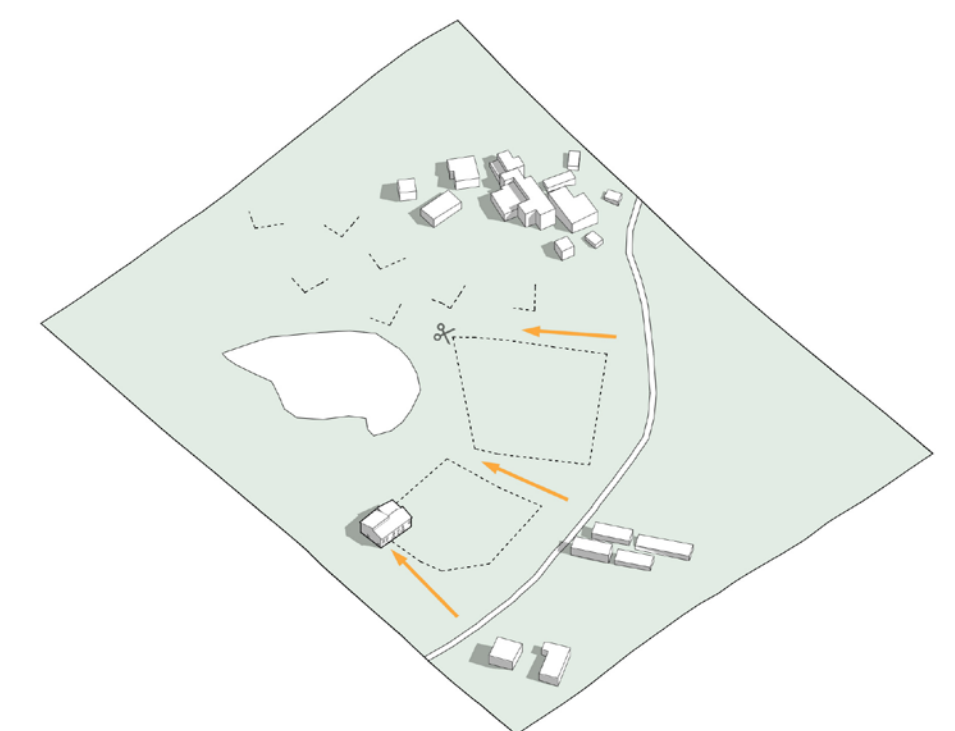

SCHEME GENERATION DIAGRAM

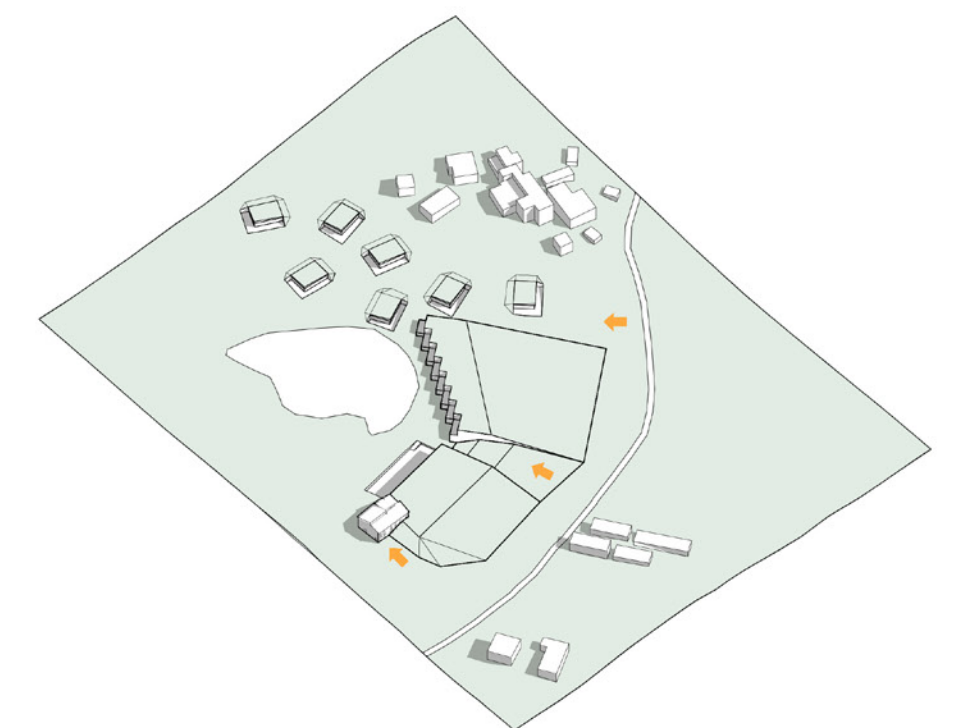

1. A pathway leading to the lake is designed because we hope that the guests can appreciate the lake and distant mountain landscape in the site as soon as they enter the site.

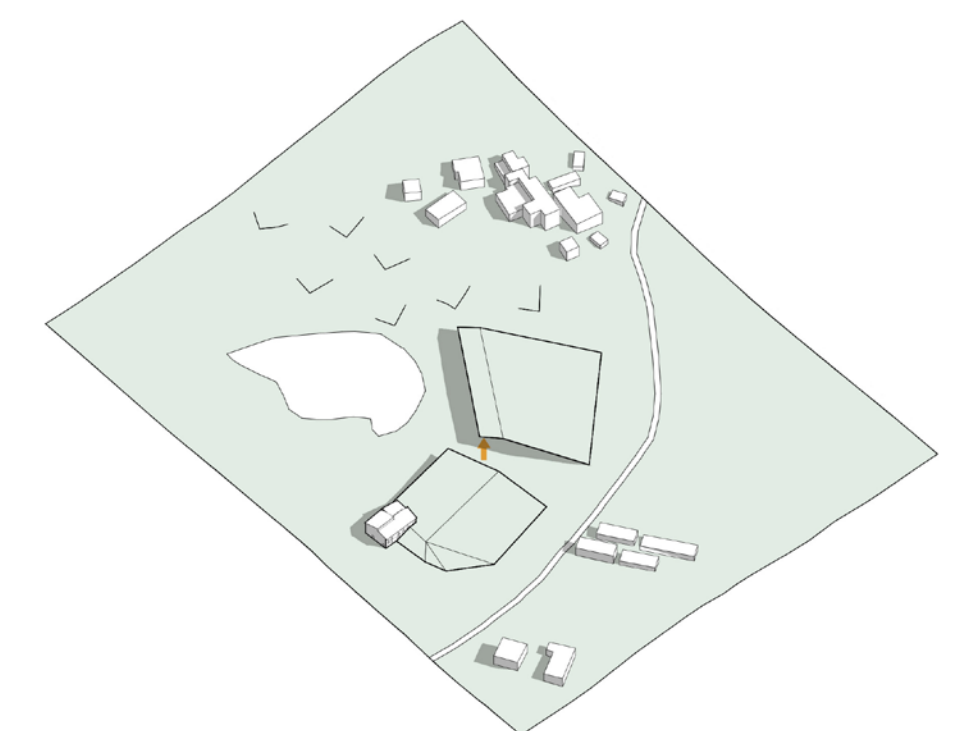

4. For giving guests here best sunlight and landscape view, standard rooms, suites and single villas are set along the lake, facing south or west direction.

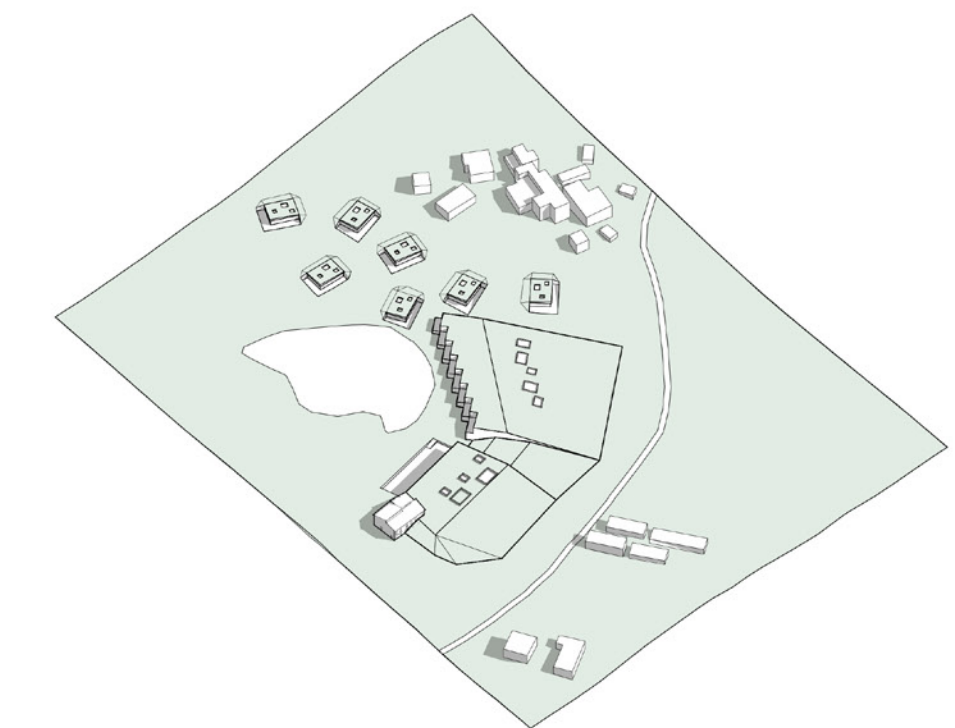

2. The main entrance of the building is from the original farmhouse. The landscape path of the site separates the two building volumes. Another path leads to the single villa area.

5. A slope is designed in the middle of the two parts of hotel to combine them together and make the circulation more fluent, meanwhile shaping the valley.

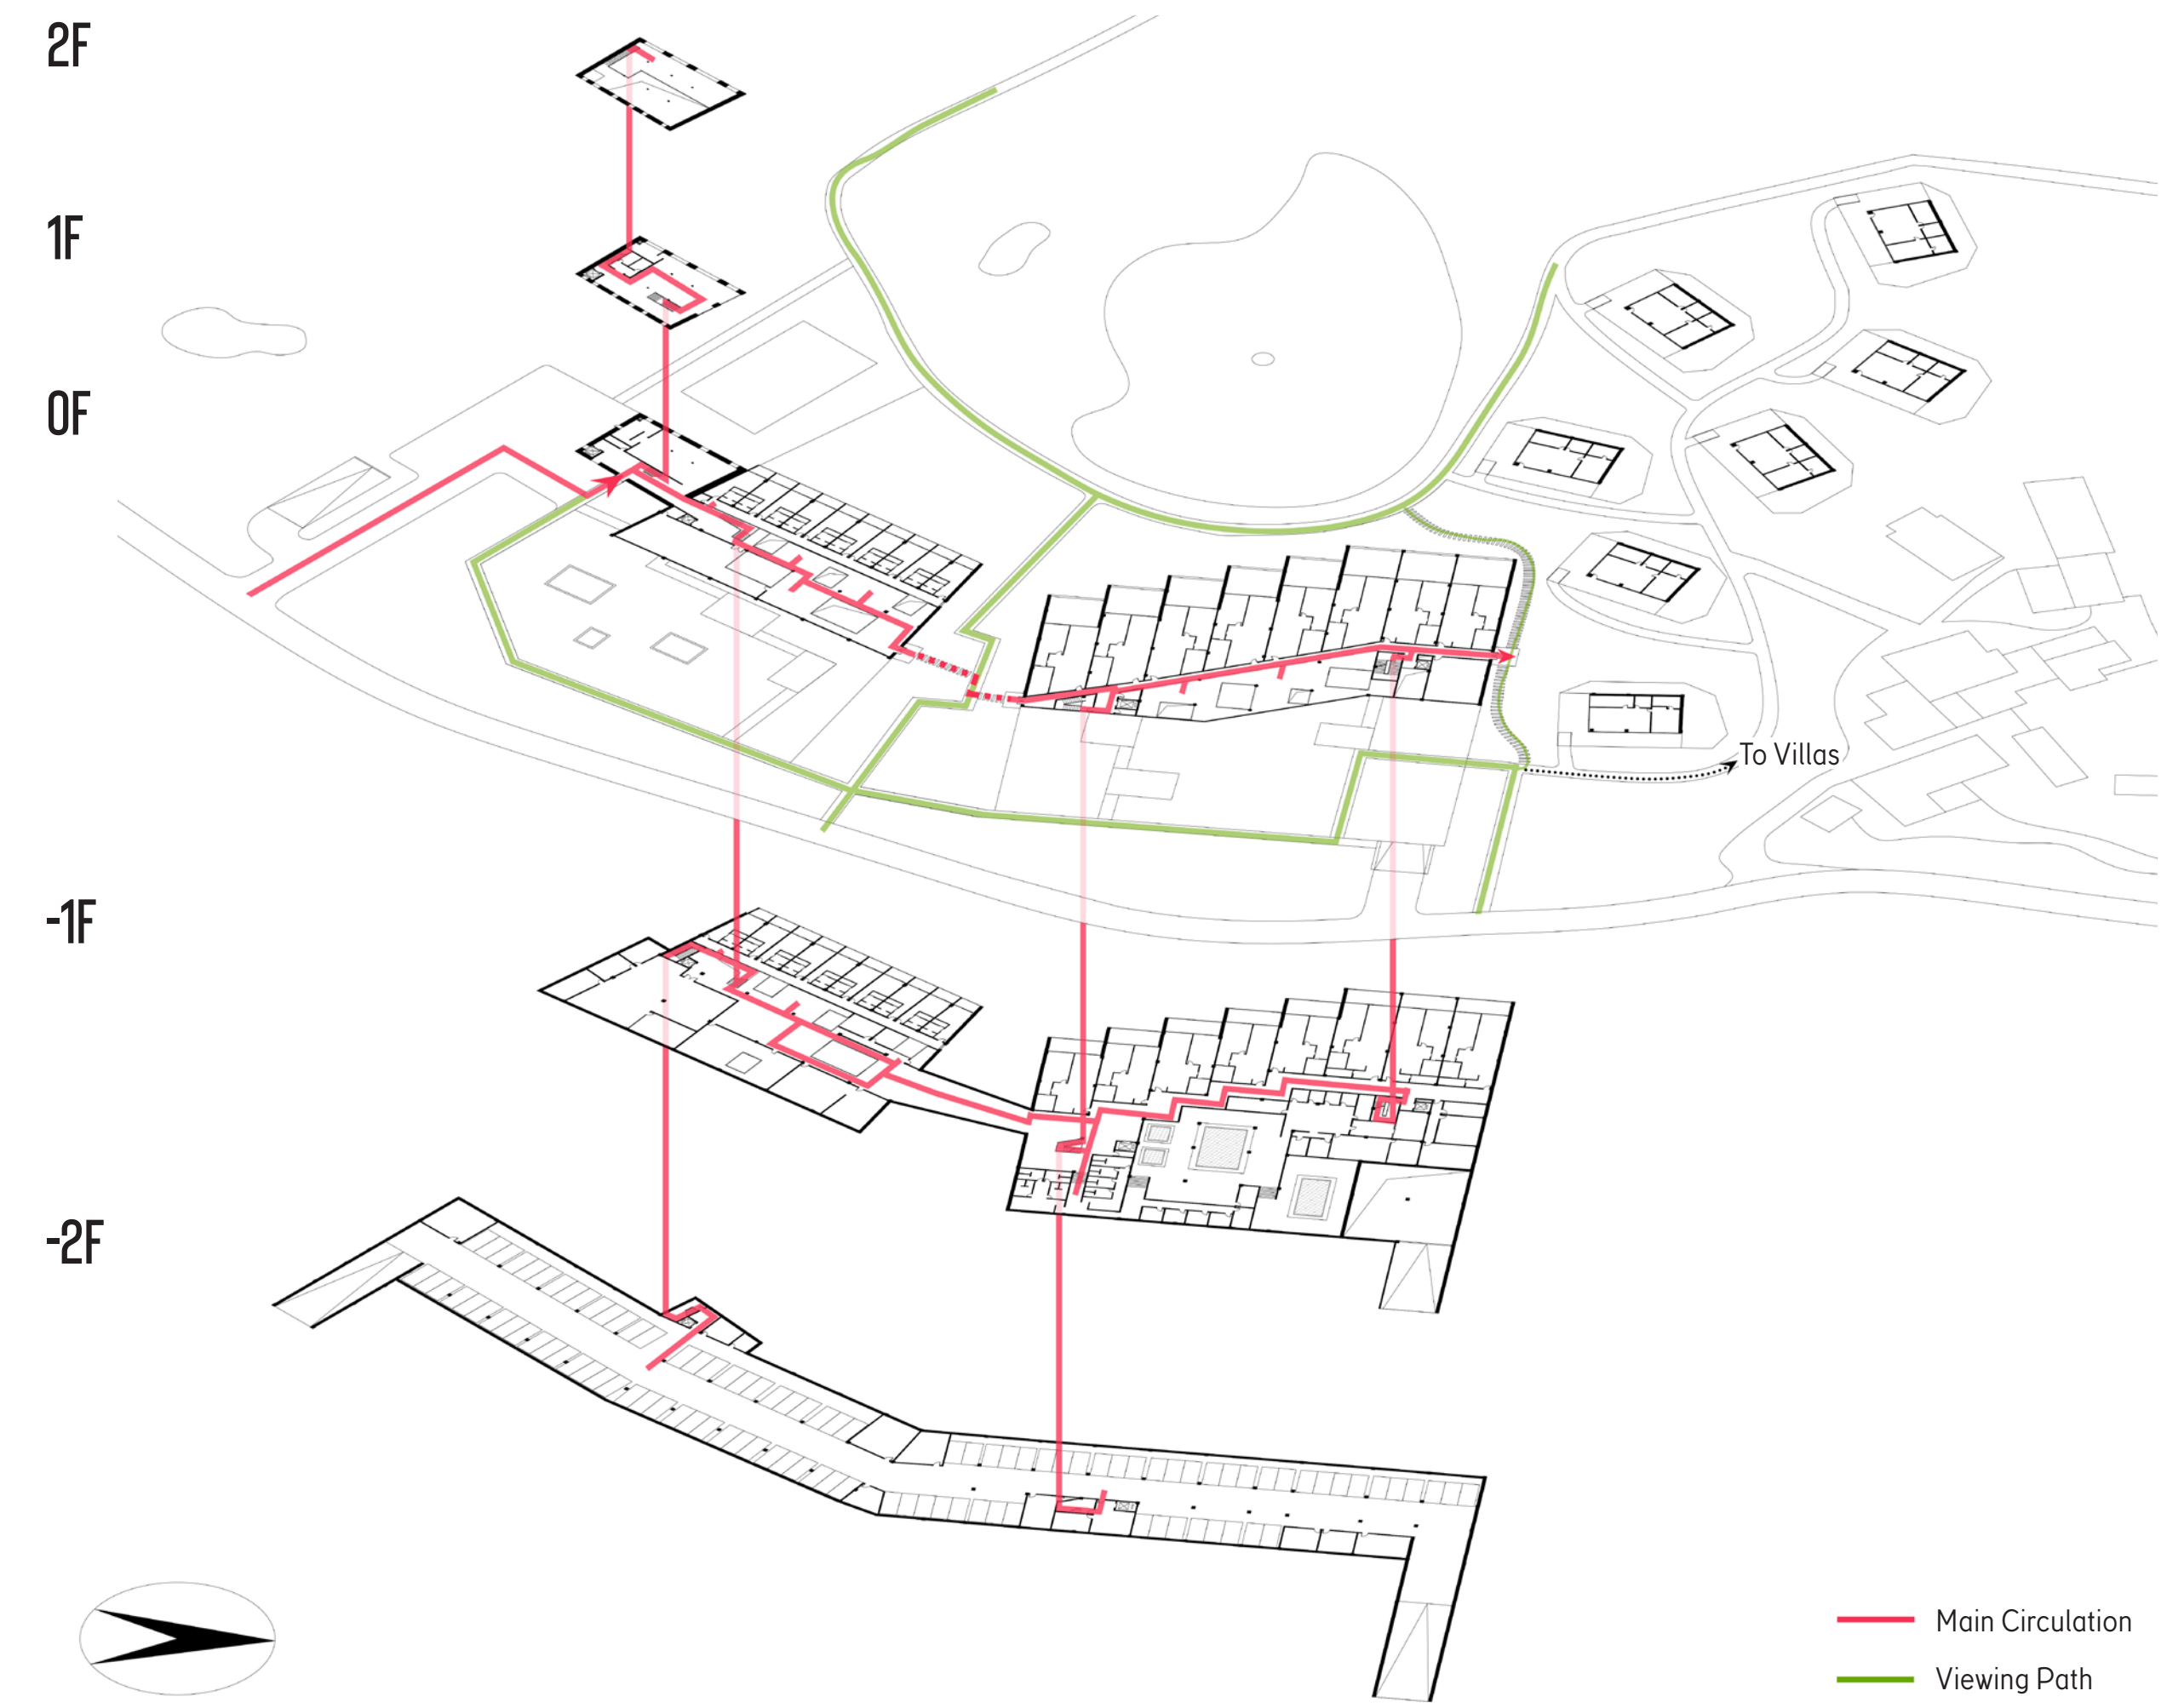

3. The land on the side close to the lake is raised as the roof of the buildings, so that the buildings can be hidden and guests can enjoy the natural environment from the guest rooms or outdoors.

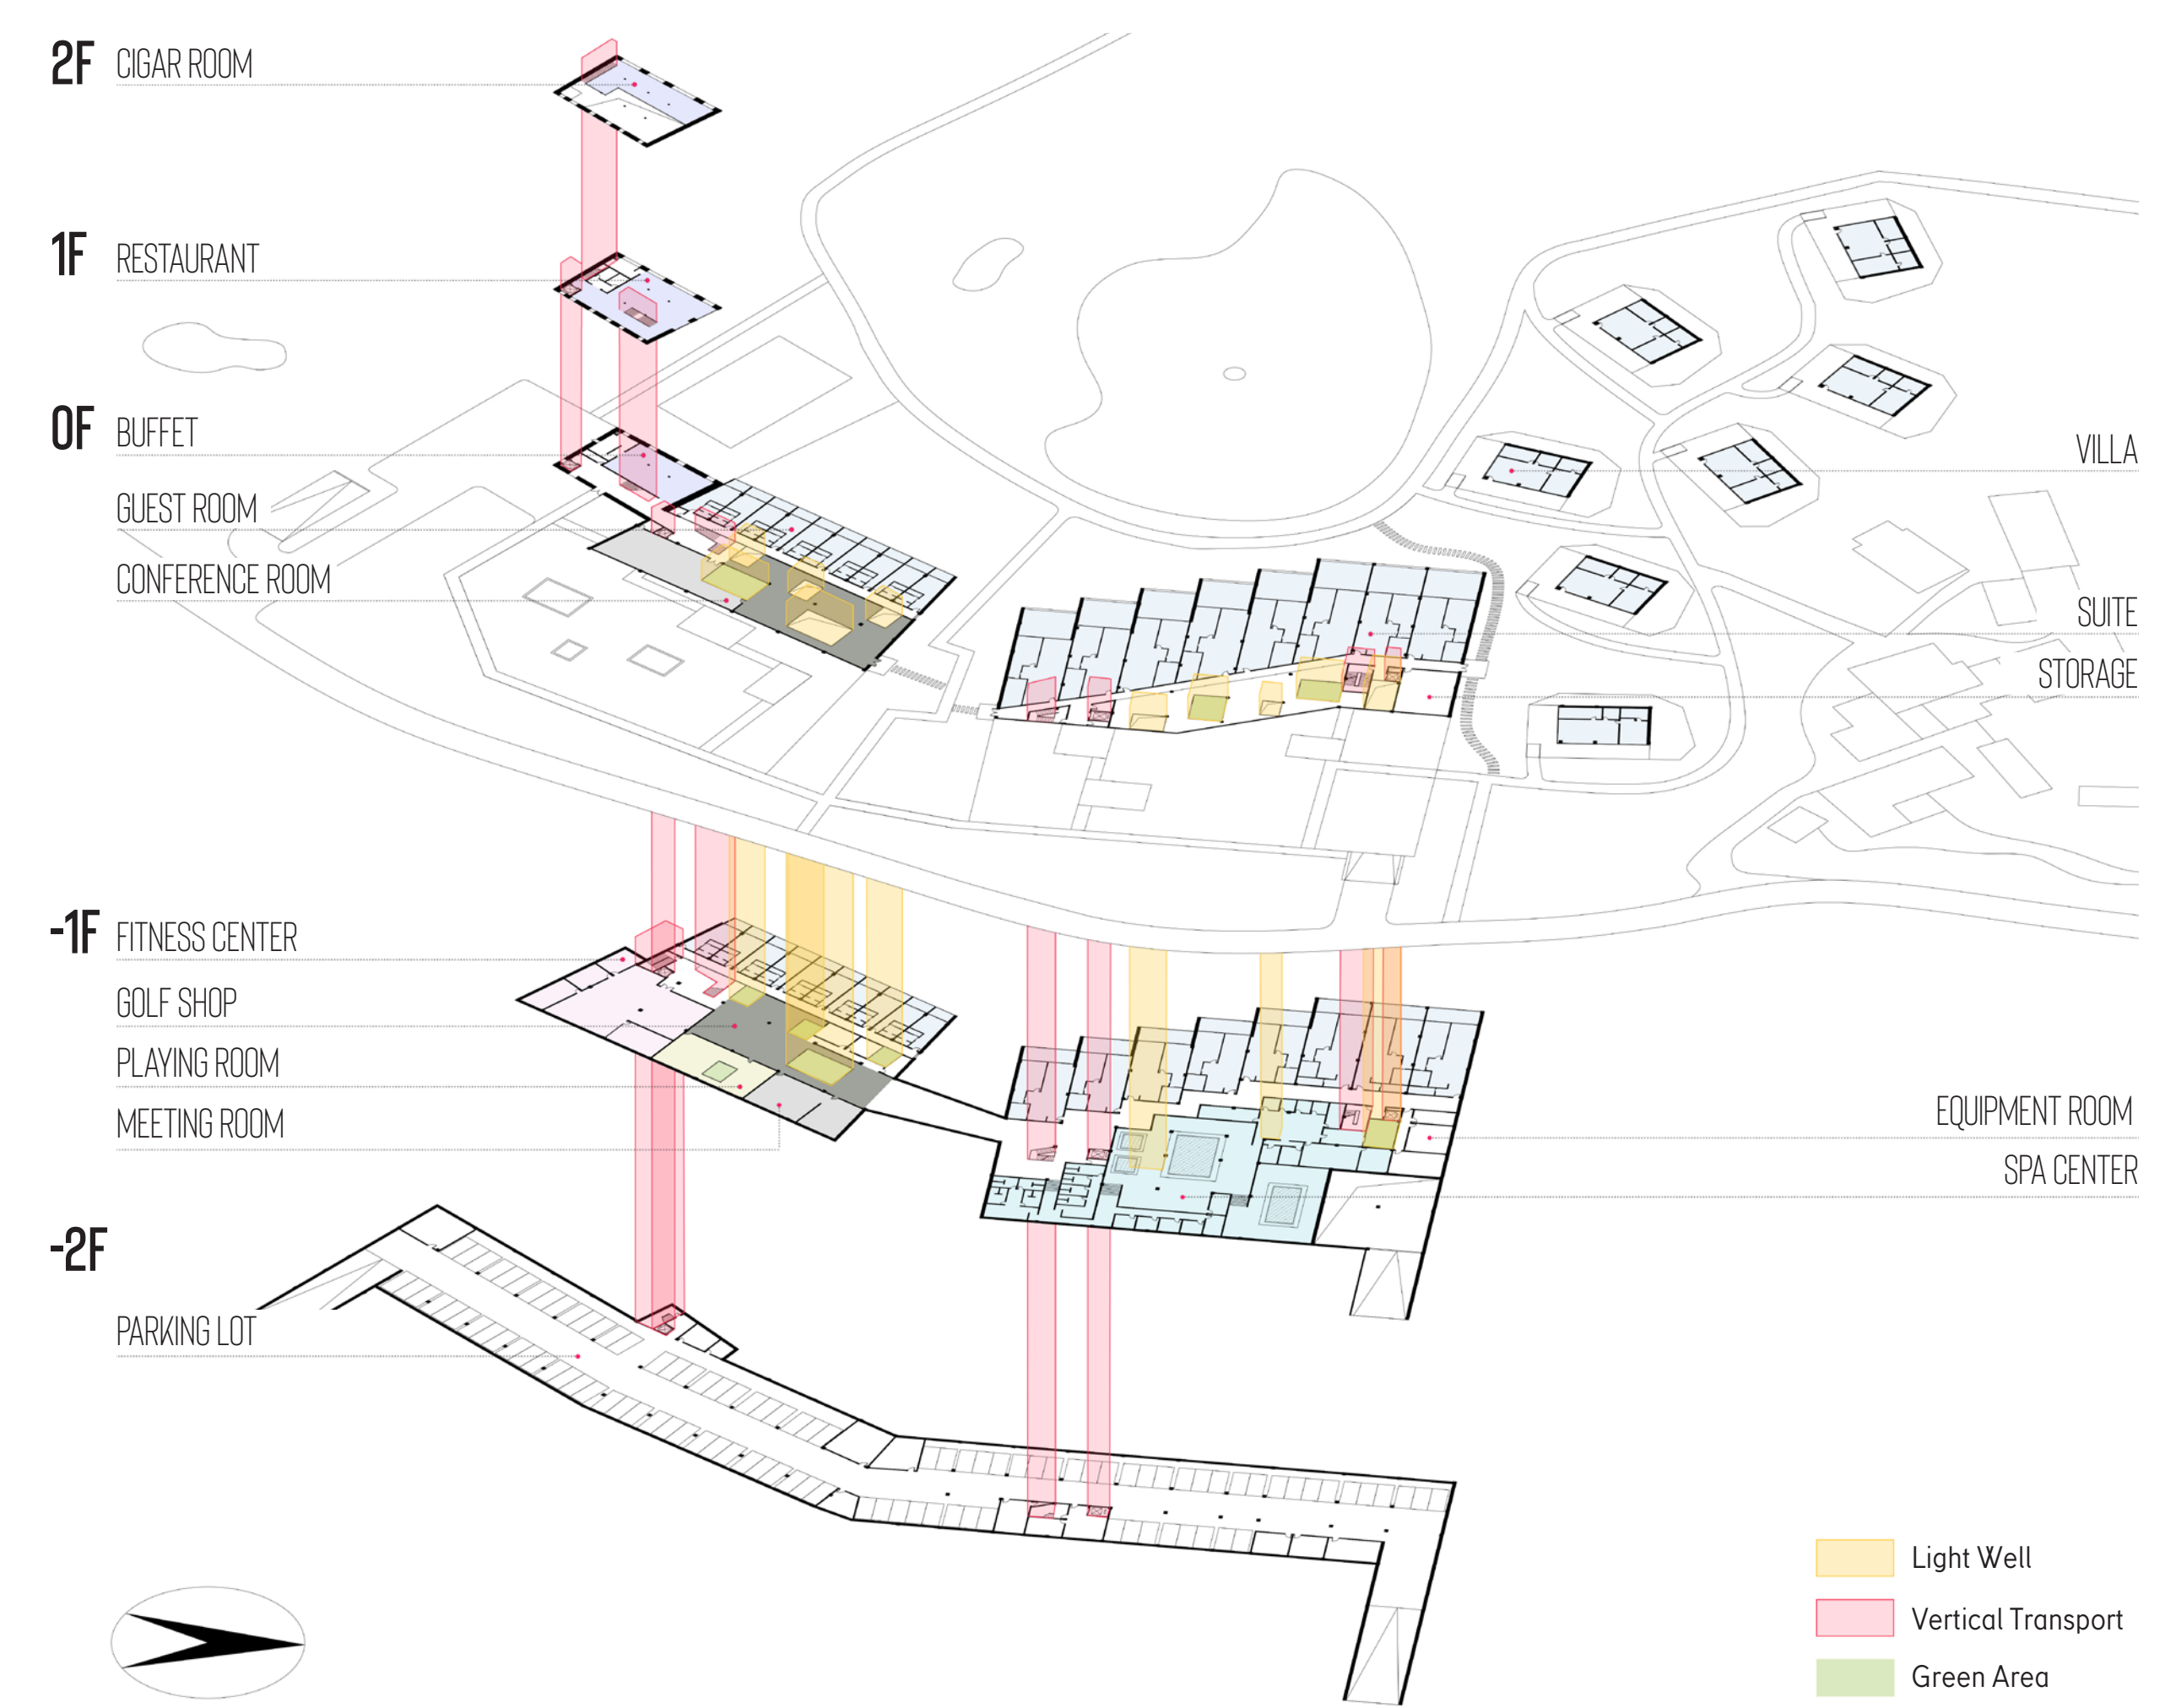

6. To give better lighting, holes are made on the roofs, shaping patios inside the building. Small sinking parts on the roof of villas is made to give people space to enjoy the view of the course.
